

Information requirements - warning notice

In the following, we provide information on the collection of personal data in the event of a warning notice being issued. Personal data are any data relating to you personally, e.g. name, address, e-mail addresses, telephone number.

1. Contact details and our Data Protection Officer

The controller as defined in Article 4 (7) of the GDPR is Fujifilm Wako Chemicals Europe GmbH, Fuggerstr. 12, 41468 Neuss, Tel: 02131/311182, Fax: 02131/311182, E-mail:

info_wkeu@fujifilm.com. The Data Protection Officer of Fujifilm Wako Chemicals Europe GmbH can be contacted at the above address, FAO Privacy Department, or at compliance_wkeu@fujifilm.com.

2. Purposes of data processing and legal bases

(1) We collect, store and, if necessary, transfer data, insofar as required in order for the creditor to be able to demand the owed performance from the debtor. If the debt is due, following an unsuccessful warning notice, the debtor shall be deemed to be in default of debt according to Section 286 of the German Civil Code [BGB]. Data are thus collected, stored and transferred for the purpose of fulfilling the contract and on the basis of Article 6 (1) sentence 1 (b) of the GDPR. Failure to provide such data may result in us being unable to recover outstanding claims

We may transmit personal data to the competent court; customers; competent financial institutions; auditors, insolvency administrators.

Further processing only takes place if you have given your consent thereto or if it is permitted by law. In addition, we may transmit information related to this procedure to a lawyer. In accordance with legal requirements, this is done to the extent necessary to safeguard our legitimate interests and the legitimate interests of third parties, and providing that there is no reason to believe that you have overriding interests or fundamental rights and freedoms that require the protection of personal data. Data are thus collected, stored and transferred for business interests purposes on the basis of Article 6 (1) sentence 1 (f) of the GDPR.

(2) We maintain current technical measures to ensure the protection of personal data. These are adapted in line with the current state of the art.

3. Duration of data storage

Insofar as we do not process your contact data for business purposes, we store the data collected for the warning notice until the purpose for which the data were collected is fulfilled and the data are no longer required, or until the expiry of a period of 10 years. After expiry of these periods, we retain the contractual information required under commercial and tax law for the duration of the statutory periods on the basis of Article 6 (1) sentence 1 (c) of the GDPR. During this period (usually 10 years from conclusion of contract), the data are only reprocessed in the event of a review by the Financial Administration. Your data will also be erased if the storage thereof is prohibited. After expiry of this period, the data collected for this procedure will be erased or restricted if erasure is not possible.

4. Your data protection rights

At any time, you have the right to obtain information from us about your personal data which we store (Article 15 of the GDPR). This also applies to the recipients or categories of recipients to whom these data are transferred and the purpose of their storage. In addition, you have the right to request rectification (under the conditions set out in Article 16 of the GDPR) and/or erasure (under the conditions set out in Article 17 of the GDPR) and/or the restriction of processing (under the conditions set out in Article 18 of the GDPR). Furthermore, under the conditions set out in Article 20 of the GDPR, you can request data portability at any time, provided that the data are still stored by us. In the event that personal data are processed for the purpose of performing a task carried out in the public interest (Article 6 (1) sentence 1 (e) of the GDPR) or pursuing legitimate interests (Article 6 (1) sentence 1 (f) of the GDPR), you may object to the processing of personal data concerning you at any time, with future effect. Should you object, we shall refrain from any further processing of your data for the aforementioned purposes, unless:

- there are compelling, legitimate grounds for processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms, or
- processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

Under the conditions set out in Article 21 (1) of the GDPR, the data subject may object to the processing of their personal data on grounds relating to their particular situation.

5. Contact
